March 3, 2016

New hours at the Anderson Academic Commons effective Monday, March 14, 2016

The Main Library will change hours of operation as of March 14, 2016. After analysis of building use over the three years since the opening of the Anderson Academic Commons (AAC), the library has decided to end 24 hour operation, except during the final exam period. The AAC will close between 2am and 7am throughout the quarters and interterms, and be open 24 hours only during finals. Between midnight and 2:00am, access will be restricted only to DU students, faculty, and staff. The new hours will be:

Monday-Thursday: 7:00 am-2:00 am*
Friday: 7:00 am-10:00 pm
Saturday: 9:00 am-10:00 pm
Sunday: 10:00 am-2:00 am*

*access only with a DU swipe card from midnight to 2:00am

Statistics collected by the library show that, while the building has substantial use overnight during finals, at most times of year, late night usage is extremely low. The Library and University Administration determined this shift in hours will allow for better use of university resources and contribute to our efforts to be more sustainable.

For questions or comments, please email: feedback-lib@du.edu

Michael Levine-Clark
michael.levine-clark@du.edu
Interim Dean and Director